Introduction

This Policy (SCP), its positions and conclusion describes general rules that Lab follows in its functioning and all projects. It is required to be acquainted and must be respected by all participants of all Lab communities.

Note that:

1. This Policy is protective and not restrictive. However, failure to become familiar with the Policy does not deprive the Lab administration of the right to apply it.
2. Publication of developments / products / materials / other elements that aren't consistent with the Policy in materials / comments / feeds of any community / channel / hosting managed by the Laboratory may be limited or terminated at decision of the administration.

Clauses of the Policy

1. Hurt

 Lab is against of hurting. No malicious activities allowed in its communities, including:

- direct offends;
- bullying;
- deliberate harm;
- aforethought damage;
- direct threats;
- fakes;
- disinformation;
- destructive criticism (that exists only for criticism and doesn't contain constructive solutions).

Participation in them or calls for such participation may be grounds for a permanent ban. Cases of indirect hurting may be reviewed by Lab administration separately.

2. “Sore issues”

⚠ Lab doesn't deal with “sore issues”. Lab communities don't allow discussions, activities and measures on social, political, economic and other topics, that most likely will cause counterproductive forms of activity described in position 1 of this Policy.

Forcing such discussions and activities can be grounds for a permanent ban.

3. Advertisements

⚠ Advertisements in Lab communities are only allowed in case described in position 2 of Applications development policy, that is when a member of the community presents information about his own development.

Untargeted (generic) ads elements can be grounds for a permanent ban.

4. Content

⚠ No payments and / or restrictions for content are permitted. All texts, pictures, diagrams, datasets and other information objects should be provided from Lab communities to their members and from members to communities free of any copyrights and without any payments, explicit and implied.

All related rights issues should be resolved by sender before submitting of content. Non-free content must be removed from free access.

Herewith, the indication of the content author is allowed. If there is no author information, the user who provided the content must be listed as the creator of the content.

Conclusion

Clauses of the policy derive one from another and guarantee that:

- Lab will (as much as possible) protect members of its communities from unwanted (unrequested), inappropriate (that aren't in community's aims) and other malicious effects that may be caused by content and activities described by Clauses.
- Lab will support all constructive discussions and critics.
- Lab will support all thematic content.
